KERWHIZZ

STYLE

- Kerwhizz is a unique interactive quiz programme aimed at 4-6 year olds. It promotes problem solving skills through playful learning. The multi-platform format is conducive to greater audience participation (this equates to active not passive media interaction). The narrative is prosocial in nature and encourages fun cooperation.
- the questions are carefully framed to encourage the use of multiple intelligences (Howard Gardner 1989). Questions incorporate facets of the 7 different learning "Intelligences" such as logical/mathematical and musical/auditory.
- the programme is scripted so children actively employ the use of each 'intelligence' to deduce answers. Humorous visual and auditory games makes this an attractive vehicle for 'soft learning' which is encased within a safe and supportive environment; the paracosm; the world in which the characters inhabit is conducive to making errors (a key component in learning).
